

e-Learning Course Announcement eAWG (August 08th-Sept 02nd, 2016)

Application of Water Governance (eAWG)

The Ministry of Water and Environment (MWE) through its Good Governance Working Group and with support from The Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH is offering an interactive e-Learning course on the Applicability of Governance Principles. The awareness course targets senior and middle managers from all sector players including the Local Governments, the de-concentrated units of the Ministry and from the Center, Civil society organisations and NGOs, the Private Sector and members from Development Agencies in the Water Sector.

Please notice that a participation to this first pilot course is possible on invitation only!

Module 1 «Governance as an Enabling Environment»

Study, Group work, Discussions and interactive Lectures covering these lessons:

Introduction to Governance | Governance Principles | Clarity of Roles

Module 2 «Applicability of Good Governance»

Study, Group work, Discussions and interactive Lectures covering these three lessons:

Transparency | Accountability | Participation

Module 3 «Measurement of Good Governance»

Study, Group work, Discussions and interactive Lectures covering these lessons:

Sustainable Development Goals | Governance Indicator Systems | ICT & Water Governance

Interactive Approach

The course participants are accompanied by experienced regional tutors (Rosemary Nakaggwa, Joseph Eritu, Ronald Nyakana) and a technical supervision. Beside studying the lessons, participants are invited to use the closed Facebook group and the interactive course environment to get into intensive contact with each other. The course also contains two interactive «Webinars» with an input lecture and discussions over the web (VoIP: Voice over IP). Participation to the course is also possible with a Smart-Phone. The course ends with an Action Plan and two written Multiple choice tests. Please notice that successful test results and active collaboration to all course elements is needed to obtain a certificate!

Login data will be submitted to all invitees until August 4th, 2016
